

audit & accounting

Our audit and accounting services give you a snapshot of your company's financial health. We look for problems, opportunities and relevant facts that can be used to your advantage. We often serve as objective advisors for CFO's, CEO's and other company executives in interpreting the numbers and communicating them in clear language. In all cases, we're a resource for quality assurance services - seeing what the numbers mean and helping clients turn knowledge into performance.

Services:

- Forecasts and Financial Projections
- Budgets and Cash Flow Planning
- Forensic Accounting
- Expert Witness and Litigation Support
- Review of Internal Controls and Accounting Systems
- Audits of Financial Statements
Audits take an in-depth look at a company's financial statements. We understand that audits may be disruptive, so we conduct them with as much efficiency as possible by keeping a strong emphasis on planning and management involvement. We will talk to third parties to confirm account balances and information, then provide a source of reliable information that is actionable for both your firm and external parties.

- Reviews and Compilations of Financial Statements

Reviews are not as extensive as an audit of financial statements, and they are utilized when a full audit is not required. In a review, our professionals would provide a report with limited assurance on your company's financial statements. For a compilation, our professionals would assist your business in preparing financial statements, but would not offer any assurance about the underlying information within the documents.

- Employee Benefit Plans

We have years of experience with a variety of employee benefit plans in both publicly and privately held companies. We offer specialized services and EBS audits that protect your assets and offer peace of mind for you and your employees. Our membership in the AICPA's Employee Benefit Plan Audit Quality Center keeps us sharp on the finer points of employee benefits.
